

British Textile Biennial 2025

This easy read is about the British Textile biennial which is happening this year.

The events are all free.

The artists from venture arts that are in the Biennial are:

Sarah Lee

Sally Hirst

Emelia Hewitt

The dates the exhibition is from is : Thursday 2nd Oct until Sunday 2nd Nov 2025.

Locations of exhibition

Helmshore Mills Textile Museum

The Whitaker Museum and Art Gallery.

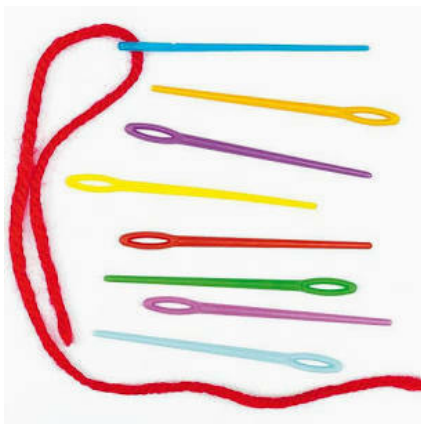

OneTwoThree Gallery

The British Textile Biennial is a month long festival, celebrating textile heritage and stories. Venture Arts is really excited to be involved.

The opening times are different for each venue, please visit the British Textile Biennial website for more information.

The British Textile Biennial website is:
<https://britishtextilebiennial.co.uk/>

There will be Venture Arts Artist Talks taking place. Emelia Hewitt & Sally Hirst will be doing a talk on on Sat 11th October from 11.30am until 12.15

What will you see at the exhibitions?

Emelia Hewitt has created photographic prints inspired by nature outside the Whitaker. She used natural dyes and plants to create the work.

Artist Sally Hirst shared the stories of disabled mill workers through weaving and sculpture. Their lives show strength and the fight for equality.

Artist Sarah Lee has created a large embroidery work inspired by the histories of manufacturing companies in Lancashire.

Emeila and Sally Hirst are doing a talk at Helmshaw Mill in Helmshaw on Saturday 11th October from 11:30am until 12:15pm.

Sarah Lee will be doing a talk at OneTwoThree Gallery in Burnley on Sunday 12th October from 1pm until 3pm.

Please go and visit British Textile Biennial if you can as there are lots of great things happening there. We hope to see you there.