Information about the tour

To mark neurodiversity celebration week we are joining our friends at the Whitworth and Sally who is the artist in residence at the Whitworth is going to do a tour which is open to everyone to experience the exhibition in a calm way.

Artist

Sally Hirst

About Sally

Sally is a neurodivergent textiles artist, ceramicist and poet based at Venture Arts. She has a love for history and retelling stories of ordinary people from the past. She is enthusiastic about accessibility and this is important to her as it is part of her practice.

We look forward to seeing you at the tour if you can come along.
